

/contact

jross.nyc111@gmail.com >
www.jamesross.us >
github.com/jross111 >

/about

> Hello, world! I'm a front end web developer eager to contribute to your engineering team and build code that enables positive change for end users.

I discovered my passion for universal languages through music. I continue to uncover the similarities between music and code. Ask me about it!

/compile

> curious > collaborator
> contributor

/skills

Front end developer:
> javascript
> ruby > react > rails
> vue
> html/css

<james.ross>

/nyc web developer

/experience

>open source projects:

- + built a react bingo card generator for users to customize and share with friends >
- + programmed a command line app for users to locate and contact elected officials >
- + developed a ruby on rails app for users to keep track of food expiration dates >
- + built a ruby on rails app that tests users knowledge on 400K unique questions > >violinist and teacher:

- + mentored students ages 3+ to learn music performance skills and techniques
- + performed with orchestras, private venues, and national tours of pop musicians
- + currently volunteering as the principal second in the nyc centre symphony orchestra

/education

>boston university

- + bachelor of music; violin performance
- + globally-recognized competitive program

>flatiron school

- + software engineering; full stack developer
- + ranked #1 coding bootcamp for 2019/20 >